“Seniors often need the most help because their health issues can be challenging. I want to help people and keep them out of the hospital.”

About Reyhan A. Ghany, MD

Dr. Reyhan Ghany takes his job to heart. Literally. As an experienced cardiologist, his priorities are to help his patients prevent or control heart disease and metabolic syndrome to keep complications from interfering in their lives. “Seniors often need the most help because their health issues can be challenging,” Dr. Ghany says. “I want to help people and keep them out of the hospital.” In his free time, Dr. Ghany likes to explore nature, especially when he and his wife vacation in his home country of Trinidad. Next time you see Dr. Ghany, say “hi” or “hola.” He is fluent in both English and Spanish.
