“My favorite part is building a strong bond with patients by learning about them on a personal level—their families, lifestyles, and more.”

About Margarita Kogan, DO

Dr. Margarita Kogan is a board-certified family medicine physician with a love for science and meaningful interactions with others. She has worked with patients of all ages and is dedicated to giving seniors the quality care they deserve. “I not only treat my patients’ medical conditions but also pay attention to their individual needs,” says Dr. Kogan. “My favorite part is building a strong bond with patients by learning about them on a personal level—their families, lifestyles, and more.”

When not with patients or keeping up with medical research, Dr. Kogan likes to spend time with her husband and children, go to the beach and garden. She also dreams of traveling the world, starting with Greece.
