“I am passionate about identifying and treating a wide range of health issues in diverse populations.”

About Jennifer Garcia-Davalos, MD, MPH

Dr. Jennifer Garcia-Davalos always knew she wanted to make a difference in people’s lives. Prior to becoming a physician, she earned a Master of Public Health with a focus in health disparities. “I aim to provide education, increase awareness, and break down social barriers, which help me provide high-quality care for patients and empower them to take charge of their own health,” she explains. She views her relationship with patients as a team and considers herself a guide in their health journey. “I am passionate about identifying and treating a wide range of health issues in diverse populations,” she says.

When not with patients, Dr. Garcia-Davalos loves spending time with friends and family. She also enjoys hiking and skiing.
